

THE VOCATI GROUP

LEADERSHIP LABS

From annual conferences, to senior leadership retreats, to staff development workshops, to year-long talent development programs, The Vocati Group partners with organizations to invest in developing the leadership capacity of their people. We offer the following keynotes and workshops that integrate cutting-edge insights from the social & behavioral sciences with proven practical strategies to create transformative light-bulb moments for leaders and teams in corporations, social impact organizations, and governments. These sessions draw extensively on Dr. Pearce's award-winning Leadership in Organizations course, one of the highest-rated courses at Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management.
